Provide leveled support for mixed abilities.

MyLiteratureLab creates a scaffolded learning environment with a depth of resources. Your students can approach instruction at their current ability and comfort levels and progress at a pace that is right for them—ultimately preparing them for the rigors of AP*-level assessments.

Give your students a way to approach literature on their own.

Self-guided instruction and practice gives students access to one-on-one support and lets them focus on critical skills and strategies. Sample student essays model the strategies in action while comprehensive modules deliver a wealth of resources in a variety of formats.

Make literature relevant and engaging.

There are so many entry points for your students to understand, relate to, and write about literature including:

- Full-length films bring literature to life while fostering media literacy skills.
- Longman Lectures help students learn more about cultural contexts and critical perspectives.
- Interactive Readings include annotations and questions to guide analysis.
- An eAnthology with over 200 selections expands your library and empowers students to interact with the literature.

Offer your students a forum to create, share, and develop ideas.

The interactive composing space, with a Writer's Toolkit at point-of-use, allows your students to draft and revise while receiving teacher and peer feedback within the context of their own writing.

Provide affordable, accessible, and flexible solutions.

MyLiteratureLab can be integrated into classroom instruction or used at home as an independent, self-directed resource. You can customize the instruction to fit your curriculum, or allow your students to explore and learn on their own.
