Introduction

This document demonstrates how myPerspectives™ English Language Arts meets the objectives of the AP® English Language and Composition Exam. Correlation page references are to the Student Edition and Teacher’s Edition and are cited by selection or feature title.

myPerspectives™ English Language Arts is a learning environment that focuses on a connected approach to student learning. Students read texts and engage in activities that inspire thoughtful conversation, discussion, and debate.

Students will encounter authors’ perspectives as they read literature from across time periods and cultures. Students will listen to the perspectives of their peers through conversations and collaborative activities. And, as students read the literature and engage in activities in myPerspectives, they will formulate—and defend—their opinions as they develop their own perspectives.

In each unit of study, students will read classic and contemporary fiction and nonfiction texts, and view/listen to media selections, all related to an Essential Question. Students will use technology to interact with texts and activities, and they can write directly in their Student Edition to make interaction with texts more meaningful.

Write for a variety of purposes. Students’ writing experiences in the course must exceed the timed writings that are assessed on the AP English Language and Composition Exam. For instance, students might undertake a lengthy and intensive inquiry into a problem or controversy, consulting and evaluating arguments and viewpoints presented in a variety of sources, and using those sources to provoke, complicate, and/or support their own responses to the problem or controversy. Students’ writing in the course should also go through a process that includes feedback from other readers, revision, and proofreading. Finally, forms other than the essays featured in the exam have a place in the course, such as personal narrative, letters, advertisements, reviews, etc.	SE/TE: Argumentative Writing: Performance Task: Write an Argument, 190–195; Write an Argument, 614–619; Writing to Sources: Argument, 184; Visual Analysis, 189; Response to Literature, 211 Informative/ Explanatory Writing: Performance Task: Write an Explanatory Essay, 58–63; Write an Informative Essay, 298–303; Write an Informative Essay, 408–413; Writing to Compare: Explanatory Essay, 49; Comparison and Contrast Essay, 12–613; Writing to Sources: Character Analysis, 400; Paraphrase, 533 Narrative Writing: Performance Task: Write a Nonfiction Narrative, 728–733; Writing to Sources: Narrative, 81; Poem, 335; Short Story, 441; Dialogue, 726; Performance-Based Assessment: Nonfiction Narrative, 810
Respond to different writing tasks according to their unique rhetorical and composition demands, and translate that rhetorical assessment into a plan for writing. Different contexts require different choices in creating and delivering texts. Create and sustain original arguments based on information synthesized from readings, research, and/or personal observation and experience. Students learn to see argument as addressing a wide range of purposes in a variety of formats. They should be able to recognize general features of arguments, such as claims, evidence, qualifiers, warrants, and conclusions. Students' ability to create informed arguments depends largely upon their reading of primary and secondary sources.
