Eric Milou is a Professor in the Department of Mathematics at Rowan University in Glassboro, NJ. Eric teaches pre-service teachers and works with in-service teachers, and is primarily interested in balancing concept development with skill proficiency. He was part of the nine-member NCTM feedback/advisory team that responded to and met with Council of Chief State School Officers (CCSSCO) and National Governors Association (NGA) representatives during the development of various drafts of the Common Core State Standards.

His excellence in teaching and leading has been recognized through honors, including Joseph A. Barnes Award for Outstanding Service, Rowan University (2015) and Max Sobel Outstanding Mathematics Educator Award, AMTNJ (2009).

Eric is an author of enVisionmath2.0 Grades 6-8.